

Make good decisions during the turmoil of a family law case

Lommen Abdo helps navigate tough legal and emotional issues.

Founded in 1938 and serving both sides of the St. Croix Valley for more than 40 years, Lommen Abdo provides multidisciplinary legal services throughout Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The firm has a special knack for family law, with a team led by firm president Marc Johannsen and attorney Josh Feneis.

“We see it as a transformative practice that helps people get through a difficult time in their life and move on to the next chapter,” says Johannsen.

Divorce, adoption, custody disputes, estate planning: Lommen Abdo is well-equipped to handle these family law issues and many more. They focus on taking the emotion out of the case to help you make the right decisions.

“We sit down and try to come up with the best way to help people navigate through the difficult legal, social and emotional problems to help them make sound business decisions and protect their assets,” Feneis says.

Lommen Abdo is a mid-sized firm with the knowledge and resources of a large firm—without the hefty bill typical of those firms. Johannsen, Feneis and the rest of the team bring decades of legal experience to every case. While these two focus on family law, the firm provides a broad spectrum of legal services. Attorneys from every discipline work together to ensure each client gets the best guidance possible.

“We encounter, in every family law case, probably five to 10 areas of the law,” Johannsen says. “Employment issues, immigrations issues, business issues, estate planning. We can handle all those things in-house and that’s really been a strength of our law firm. We have an open door policy, so our lawyers are comfortable collaborating with each other.”

Resolve your family law issues with as little stress as possible with the help of Lommen Abdo, your St. Croix Valley neighbors who have the legal expertise and the know-how to get things done.
